Slave Sale Advertisements Placed by Jews

This book presents disturbing evidence of American Jewish participation in the Black African slave trade. Jewish merchants from all over the world participated in the inhumane trade in Black human beings, often dominating some of the most important slave-trading markets. Jews were particularly active in Brazil and the Caribbean, and much of their activity occurred outside the eventual boundaries of the United States, long before it was established as a nation in 1776.

Some Jewish scholars have used U.S. census records, which show "modest" Jewish slaveholding, to diminish the role of Jews as major "owners" of Black human beings. This, however, is highly misleading. Jews were twice as likely as the general population of American whites to "own" Africans. Moreover, many Jewish merchants were simultaneously retailing dozens, even hundreds, of Africans through their business enterprises. The 1830 census shows that all the Jews of Charleston, South Carolina, claimed to "own" a total of 104 Black human beings. But a single Jew, Jacob Cohen, on a single day in 1857, offered for sale "125 rice negroes." That same year, the same Mr. Cohen teamed with a Gentile and advertised almost twice that number—210—in a single day. Jewish slave traders, by economic necessity, tried to "turn over" their Black human merchandise as quickly as possible, and this brief "ownership" of Africans by many Jewish merchants is not reflected in the census records. Nevertheless, in marketing the products of slave labor and supplying plantations with items of commerce—even buying and selling whole plantations along with the slaves—Jewish merchants helped make slavery profitable in America.

Jews were primarily merchants in America, and as a group Jews had developed a highly advanced and unparalleled business, financial, and mercantile network wherein slaves and the products of slave labor found a ready market and worldwide distribution. Cotton, sugar, tobacco, corn, wheat, gold, fur, lumber, as well as all manner of manufactures, such as clothing and textiles, furniture, tools and hardware, et cetera, were fed into this massive trading network, generating extraordinary wealth, which fueled America's astonishing growth. As can be seen in the text of these advertisements, Jewish merchants regarded Black human beings as simply another commodity to be funneled into their international trading network.

The reader will note the extraordinary amount of slave trading carried on by South Carolina Jews. In fact, long before the American Jewish population became concentrated in New York, the center of the Jewish community in the slavery era was Charleston. The city had the largest population of Jews in the country and was considered the western hemisphere's very center of Jewish wealth and culture. The origin of Reform Judaism (the branch of Judaism practiced today by the vast majority of American Jews) began in Charleston in 1825. And when the Jewish reformers in that city announced their new Judaism to the general public, they appealed to "all who are influenced by tolerant and unprejudiced feeling." They explained that their actions would extol the "force and beauty of the moral law" and eschew those practices that "partake strongly in bigotry"—all "in Honor of Almighty God." Yet this very same appeal was signed by several Jewish slave-owners and printed on the very same page of the City Gazette and Commercial Daily Advertiser (September 11, 1826) wherein Jewish merchant Abraham Tobias offered for sale, and warranted the character of, "a prime young negro fellow."

The language used by Jewish merchants in these slave advertisements—many of them serving as high synagogue officials and pillars of the Jewish community—betrays their comfort with the horrors of Black slavery. "Cargoes" of "Likely Negroes" were bought and sold alongside farm animals and furniture; whole plantations are sold with all "negroes" included in the purchase; shipping services are offered with "roomy accommodations for slaves"; insurance is offered for slave ships; "negro" and "mulatto" "wenches" are put on the auction block as "temptresses"—all these "bargains" publicly offered by Jews in America's city newspapers.

Whole "gangs of negroes"—some advertised "in families"—are publicly traded as objects of commerce for pure profit. One merchant has "Sundry Negro Slaves in families." Another sells a plantation with a "gang of about 60 Negroes," with "negro houses" to accommodate 50 slaves; and another Jewish merchant guarantees the "lowest" prices on "real estate, negroes, horses, etc." One merchant sells "40 valuable Negroes" consisting of "house servants and field slaves"; another sells "a prime gang of 43." Another merchant sells "choice Negroes," 80 at one time; and yet another has "65 prime negroes at a private sale." Children 5-years-old, 9-years-old, 11, 16, 17, 2-months-old—even infants—are all sold without any concern for their welfare or for their families. One advertises a "valuable family of field slaves," including an "infant" and a "2-year old" (both of whom the Jewish seller already determined to be "field slaves"). One seeks to hire 150 "young, healthy, able-bodied Working Negroes." Evidently, he felt it necessary to explain that the "Negroes" would be "treated with humanity." He offered a special deal to sellers: he would not charge for the temporary lodging of "sucking children of Negroes sent to [him to] sell." Africans are advertised as good housekeepers for elderly whites, and it is chilling to consider the fate of the many Black girls and boys advertised for sale. One Jewish auctioneer sells "rice field Negroes"; another sold "10 Long Cotton Negroes." One offered 100 "prime Virginia slaves," but later had to take out an ad to rebut rumors that he was instead fraudulently selling "Kentucky slaves."

Freedom-seeking Blacks are branded "runaways" and doggedly pursued through newspaper notices: one Jew chased a Black woman for years, advertising for the return of "my negro girl" when she was 25 and again when she was 31. Other Jews captured and held "runaways" for the bounty. Jews are found serving the plantation masters, selling "negro jackets," "negro shoes," "negro clothes"—one selling 7 bales of "American cloth for plantation Negroes." One merchant offers "newly clothed negroes," for which he added $3 to the sale price; another entices slave owners with "splendid accommodations for negro sales." One Jew seeks in an advertisement to hire an "overseer" for her plantation. The Jewish slave-dealers distinguish whether their Black human chattel are "colored" or "mulatto," foreign-born Africans or native-born negroes, and much of this Black merchandise is "warranted" "sober and honest," "of good character," and documented as having made no attempts to run away. One group of Blacks "for sale" is advertised to have had just one previous owner. Jewish brokers receive commissions on their slave sales, one offering special terms for "negroes": "bond with interest and security," payable in one year—Black slaves on layaway.

Synagogue officials and even rabbis sold Black people. Rabbi Jacob Levin sold "22 likely Negroes" for "investment" purposes, he states in his ad. Long before the Nazis forced Jews to wear yellow stars, Jewish police were threatening Charleston Blacks with "corporal punishment" if they did not present their "slave badges" to any white man who asked. A Jew seeking his "runaway negro" informs the public that she had badge #2090, which proved that she was his property. Other Jewish constables incarcerated Blacks they suspected of being "runaways" and advertised their descriptions in the public newspapers. Another Jew in the role of city assessor reminded his fellow Charleston citizens through a newspaper notice that taxes were due on their slave property. Any one who might assist his runaway, one Jew threatens, "shall be prosecuted with the utmost rigor of the law."

In one particularly callous display, a prominent Jewish merchant, Abraham Seixas, composed poetry for his ad, which reads in part:

He has for sale	For planting too
Some negroes male,	He has a few
Will suit full well for grooms.	To sell for the cash,
He has likewise	Of various price,
Some of their wives	To work the rice
Can make clean dirty rooms.	Or bring them to the lash.

The young ones true,
If that will do,
May same be had of him.
To learn your trade
They may be made
Or bring them to your trim.

"If you buy them of me," he assures, "What e'er you say, They will obey."

These advertisements represent proof of substantial Jewish involvement in the greatest criminal endeavor in the history of the world—the Black Holocaust.

Maurice Barnett

Maurice Barnett of Baton Rouge, Louisiana, operated the auction house of Jacobs & Asbridge. He was such a prolific slave-dealer that twentieth-century picture postcards of the "Old Slave Block" depict his office at 40 St. Louis Street. He was a very close associate of the slave-breeding Jewish pirate Jean Lafitte.

Barnett preferred the quality of Lafitte's African product. According to Rabbi I. Harold Sharfman, these "products" were "sturdy and healthy, for only the hardiest blacks survived confinement in the deep dark stuffy hulls of the slave ships, not to mention the contagious diseases and brutal treatment that marked their months-long journey."

STOLEN from the subscriber, on the night of the 15th inst. the following negroes, to wit: Edny, Ellinor, Louisa and Curtis. Edny is a tall black negro woman, about twenty years of age. Ellinor is about the same age and size, and about the same complexion. It is probable that the perpetrators may steer their course to the South or west, for the purpose of selling them. If any person will detect the thief, or confine him and the negroes in jail so that I can get hold of them, I will give them fifty dollars; or twenty-five for the negroes alone.

NEGROES, NEGROES.

The undersigned has just arrived in Lumpkin from Virginia, with a likely lot of negroes, about 40 in number, embracing every shade and variety. He has seamstresses, chamber maids, field hands, and doubts not that he is able to fill the bill of any who may want to buy. He has sold over two hundred negroes in this section, mostly in this county, and flatters himself that he has so far given satisfaction to his purchasers. Being a regular trader to this market he has nothing to gain by misrepresentation, and will, therefore, warrant every negro sold to come up to the bill, squarely and completely. Give him a call at his Mart.

Once again occurs,
His service pure
For to secure
Money in the cellar.

He has for sale
Seven yokes of oxen
Will suit the best of art and
He has likewise
Seven of the worst
Can be seen daily rooms.

For planting tea
He has a few
To sell for the cash,
Of various prices
To work the rice
Or bring them to the 'ash.

His young ones true
If that will do,
May some be had of him
To learn your trade
They may be made
Or bring them to your train.

The boatmen great,
Will you elate
They are so brisk and free;
What else you say
They will obey
If you buy them of me.

Also can
So many man
With but a few of the state;
A bargain here
They may procure
If they don't may be late.

For paper he
Will sure agree,

To tell the same
If with good name
And buyer can be met.

To such of these
As will dispose
He begs of them to tell;

That they have got to sell.

He surely will
Try all his skill
To sell for more or less
The articles or more and better
That him do please.

Levi Sheftall

The Sheftall family was one of the most enterprising Jewish slave-dealing operations of Savannah, Georgia. At 27, Benjamin (1692-1765) owned 1,000 acres and nine Africans. In 1756, he claimed to have 2 slaves for his 200 acres, though it is probable that he had dozens. In 1763, he claimed that 5 Black human beings slaved over an additional 50 acres. Benjamin's property was once attacked by the British, who carried off some of the Africans to Florida. Levi Sheftall, of Savannah, Ga. (1739-1809), was president of synagogue Mikve Israel.

To be sold by the subscribers, on very reasonable terms,

Profitable Investment.

A PRIVATE SALE.—That valuable PLANTATION called the Elms, containing 1617 acres of land capable of producing Cotton, Corn and Rice of superior quality, and has recently the additional advantage of a Brick yard established on it, with every thing necessary for immediate operations, to make and burn the very best grey Bricks, having the quality and quantity of the description of clay and wood to do so. On the Brick Yard there are upwards of 250 M. burnt and unburnt Bricks of the largest size, with 200 cords of wood already cut to hand.—The Machines and Press to make the bricks of the most perfect shape—the Press being that of 'Willards Bridle Brick Press', which the owner has the patent of for the whole State of South Carolina. This Press produces the well known brick, called the Philadelphia and Baltimore press brick. With the Plantation will be sold 25 Negroes, about twenty of whom are workers, all field hands and brick makers. The principal part of the men understand the management of the machine, and the burning of the bricks, which make them very valuable.

On the Plantation there are a very large brick Mansion, with 12 rooms, a brick Kitchen, and Store House, Overseers House, Dairy, Barns, Stable, Smoke House, Blacksmith Shop, Fowl House, Double Negro Houses with brick chimneys, and fine large Garden, with good Fruit Trees, and a plantation of the best Strawberries.

The Plantation is well known for its beautiful locality; and being but two and a half miles from Woodstock, can be reached from Charleston in an hour and a half. It is decidedly one of the very best pasturages for Cattle of all descriptions, of any within a hundred miles of Charleston—the stock on it always having the preference for market—which can be made an additional source of income, besides the very great advantage of the Brick-Yard.

James Lucena

James Lucena came to Rhode Island in the early 1750s claiming to be Catholic. He reportedly enslaved at least nine and as many as twenty Africans and owned 750 acres in Georgia when the trustees of that colony introduced slavery in 1749. In 1771 he owned 1000 more acres and "sent a vessel to Jamaica for a parcel of Negroes." On March 21, 1770, he placed the following advertisement in the Savannah Georgia Gazette:

RUN AWAY from the subscriber, on Friday last, A NEGROE FELLOW, named SAM, about 22 years old, and about 5 feet 6 inches high, is well known in and about Savannah, has his country marks on each side his face thus |||, his teeth remarkably wide apart, and speaks very good English, had on when he went away a dark grey cloth double breasted waistcoat and a white negroe cloth under jacket, a pair of green negroe cloth long trowsers, and a round sailor's cap. Whoever delivers him to me at Savannah shall have a reward of twenty shillings, and all reasonable charges.

—James Lucena

N.B. Said negroe is suspected to be concealed on board some vessel, and I forewarn the masters of vessels from carrying him off, as they may depend on being prosecuted to the utmost rigour of the law.

Ten Guineas Reward.

RUN AWAY from the Subscriber, two negroes, a wench named Hagar, and her daughter, Mary. Hagar, is about 40 years old, speaks good English; had on, when she went away, a blue negro cloth. Mary, is about twelve years old, speaks very good English; had on, when she went away, a green frize gown. They have absented themselves about six or seven weeks, and I have since been informed, that they crossed Ashley River, about a fortnight past, and are supposed to be gone to Mr. William Stautenbury's plantation, at Indian Land, they having relations there.

(200)

The above reward will be given to any person or persons who secures them, and delivers them to the Warden of the Sugar House, or to the Subscriber. And a further reward of TWENTY GUINEAS will be given to any person or persons, who will give information of the above negroes being harboured by any white person, upon conviction.

Meyer Moses

Meyer Moses advertised in the South-Carolina Gazette for a runaway slave on September 19, 1771:

RUN AWAY from the Subscriber about a week past, a negro man named JACK, had on when he went away a soldier's coat, and petty coat trowsers; he is a square well set fellow, about five feet 5 inches high, much pock marked in the face; one of his feet is frost bitten; speaks good English. Masters of vessels are cautioned against carrying him off, as they must answer the consequence: I have been informed he gives himself out for a freeman, lately from England and wants to ship himself.

Isaac Motta

Isaac Motta was a South Carolina resident who, acting possibly as a legal agent or bounty hunter, placed this advertisement in the South-Carolina Gazette on March 29, 1770:

RUN AWAY from the Honourable WILLIAM DRAYTON, Esq; at St. Augustine, in East-Florida, two NEGRO MEN; Anthony, about 25 Years of Age, very black, near 5 Feet high, has lost part of the first Joint of his left Thumb; Frank, about 22 Years of Age, yellow Complexioned, and pitted with the Small-pox. They were born on the Estate of the late THOMAS DRAYTON, Esq; at Indian-Land, and are supposed to have attempted to return thither. Ten Pounds Currency will be paid for each, on being delivered to the Warden of the Work-House.

Mordecai Myers

Mordecai Myers' plantation housed sixty-four slaves. Based on regional records, it may be that he or his relatives were responsible for the following advertisement in the South-Carolina Gazette of October 24, 1770:

ABSENTED herself from the Subscriber, on Thursday last, a tall stout NEGRO WENCH, named LUCY, well known in and about Jacksonburgh; formerly the Property of Francis Oldfield, on Ponpon Neck. She had on when she went away a Callico Petticoat and Jacket: But as she took other Cloaths with her, may probably appear in other Dresses. TEN POUNDS Currency Reward will be paid to any Person who will give Information of her being harboured by a white Person, and ONE DOLLAR if by a Negro, on Conviction of the Offender; and FIVE POUNDS like Money to any one who will deliver her to Mordecai Myers.

Years later Myers still sought his slave through an advertisement in the Savannah Georgia Gazette, on May 17, 1775:

RUN AWAY from the subscriber, A NEGROE WENCH, named Lucy, from Ponpon, formerly the property of Francis Oldfield, said wench supposed to have gone to George Galphin, Esq.'s or harboured by horse thieves, &c. either Joseph or Brukins Prine. Whoever brings said wench to me shall have one hundred pounds reward South-Carolina currency; if harboured by white persons, and the same prosecuted. I hereby promise a reward of five hundred pounds South-Carolina currency.

—Mordecai Mires.

N.B. The wench has been absent four years.

Benjamin Simons

Benjamin Simons, of Charleston, placed several advertisements for runaway slaves in local papers. In the South-Carolina Gazette and Country Journal, April 19, 1774:

RUN-AWAY from the subscriber about the 23d day of July last, a negro man named PRINCE, he is about 30 years of age, 5 feet 5 or 6 inches high, has a blemish in one eye, which was caused by the small-pox; he had on when he went away, a blue waistcoat, and a pair of light coloured breeches. He was brought up to the blacksmith's business in New-York. He was seen a few days after he absented himself, with a cart, about five miles from town. Whoever will deliver said negro man to me in Charles-Town, or to the warden of the work-house, shall receive FIVE POUNDS currency reward, and all reasonable charges, from Benjamin Simons.

Simons apparently sought "Abraham" in an advertisement in the South-Carolina Gazette, November 9 to November 16, 1767. The South-Carolina and American General Gazette of April 17 to May 1, 1776:

RUN away about the first of April last, a stout, well made Negro Man named JUNE, formerly belonging to James Witter of James Island, and used to attend the Market, but was employed in the Ferryboat from Scott's Ferry in Town; he has been seen in Town, where he is harboured, and on James Island. Jewish Anti-Black Lawmakers

The yellow star, inscribed with the word "Jew" (left) has become a symbol of Nazi persecution of Jews in the World War II era. A 1941 decree required that Jews wear these "badges" within the Nazi-occupied areas. The cloth badge was to be prominently displayed on every Jew's clothing for easy identification.

A century earlier in Charleston, South Carolina, Jewish constable Moses Levy reminded the population of the 1813 "Ordinance to regulate Badges for Negroes." His notice in the Southern Patriot newspaper warned that the regulation required that

...All Negroes or other Slaves working out on hire, shall wear the Badge received from the City Treasurer [right], conspicuously about their persons. And it shall be lawful for any person to command any Negro or other slave applying for hire or working out, to produce his or her Badge....[Signed by] Moses Levy, police officer[, et al.]

Violation of this pre-Nazi Nazism meant "corporal punishment" for Blacks. In Charleston alone, several Jews were officially responsible for enforcing the "slave badge" ordinance, and for the apprehension and punishment of Black people who wanted freedom more than slavery:

Lewis Gomez	1802	Turnkey of Jail
Elisha Elizer	1802	Deputy Sheriff
Moses Solomon	1802	Constable
Morris Goldsmith	1815-1850	Dep. U.S. Marshal
Nathan Hart	1821	Constable
Solomon Moses	1822	Constable
Samuel Hyams	1822	Keeper of Jail
Mark Marks	1822	Deputy Sheriff
Solomon Moses, Jr.	1822	Deputy Sheriff
Moses Levy	1840s	Detective

Mordecai Sheftall, Jr., served as police chief in Savannah, Georgia, between 1849 and 1851. Savannah's other Jewish officials included judges Levi S. D'Lyon (1838-1845 and 1861-1863) and Mordecai Sheftall, Sr. (1847-1851), five sheriffs, and five clerks. Part of their sworn duties included "the regulation of slaves and freemen."

POLICE OFFICE, 4th DEC. 1846.

AN Ordinance to regulate Badges for Negroes working out on hire, and for other purposes, ratified April 11th, 1843.

SEC. 10. All Negroes or other Slaves working out on hire, shall wear the Badge received from the City Treasurer, conspicuously about their persons. And it shall be lawful for any person to command any Negro or other slave applying for hire or working out, to produce his or her Badge, and immediately to carry to the Work House any one, either having no Badge, or refusing to produce it, or producing a Badge different from the work in which he or she may then be employed on hire, or not producing a Badge correspondent with and legally obtained, for the year in which the demand is made. And every Negro or other slave so brought to the Work House, whose owner had not taken out a Badge for him or her in the manner aforesaid, shall be detained until the aforesaid fine of twenty dollars and the expenses of the Work House shall have been fully paid, and if the owner of a Negro or other slave so brought to the Work House for not wearing a Badge, or for refusing to produce as aforesaid, had obtained a legal Badge for him or her, he or she shall be discharged from the Work House, upon the owner's paying, or causing to be paid, a fine of two dollars and the charges of the Work House; but if the owner shall within three days after being notified of such commitment refuse to make such payment, then such Negro or other slave shall receive in the Work House, such corporal punishment as the Mayor may direct, and be discharged. And it shall be the duty of the Master of the Work House, to give immediate notice to the owner of any Negro or other slave, or to his agent, who may be brought to the Work House aforesaid; but if the Owner, of his or her agent, cannot be found out, to proceed as the law direct with regard to runaway slaves. Provided, nevertheless that it shall not be necessary for any Negro or other slave to have a badge about his or her person, who may be hired by the owner to a white person as a house servant, or to reside on the premises of the latter in any other capacity, but the badge in such cases shall be given to the persons hiring, to be kept by him or her as long as such hiring shall continue.

By order of the Mayor.

Committed,

To the Charleston Gaol, on the 21st March last, by Samuel Richards Esq. on the affidavits of Isaac Jackson and Thomas Ryan, 4 NEGROES, 3 fellows and a wench. They found them in the possession of a man calling himself John Browne, who had no papers to prove his right to them, and making his escape on being interrogated leads to the supposition that they were stolen or enticed away. The fellows call themselves, Square, Jean, Jack, and the wench calls herself Eliza, they all appear to be middle aged, and state that they are the property of Col. Keunen Hill of King and Queen County, Virginia, and that they were lately brought away from near Augusta, Georgia, to this place by the said Browne, who persuaded them from the service of one William Thompson, who had hired them from a Solomon Elias, but their stories differ and appear improbable.

 An advertisement appeared in the Gazette of the 17th inst. signed SOLOMON MOSES, cautioning all persons against detaining or harboring a Negro Boy named CESAR, about 16 years of age, on penalty of the law, which is calculated to give a wrong impression of the facts, the said Negro being the property of the subscriber, who will give a reasonable reward for his apprehension and return to him. The above Negro was taken from the yard of Mr. Goldsmith without a shadow of right; and the said Moses is hereby forewarned to desist from further trespass on the property, or he will incur all the penalties of the law.
